

Cool Winter Facts

Brr, it's cold out there! Warm up your brain by reading these frigid winter facts.

- The largest snowflake on record measured 15 inches across and fell in Montana in 1887.
- All snowflakes have six sides - but no two are exactly alike.
- In 1921, Silver Lake, Colorado, experienced the biggest snowfall in a 24-hour period in United States history - a whopping 76 inches!
- The coldest temperature ever recorded was set in Antarctica at -136 degrees Fahrenheit.
- On average, snowflakes fall at a speed of 3.1 miles per hour.
- Fear of snow is called chionophobia.
- The world's tallest snowman was built in February 2008 in Bethel, Maine, and measured 122 feet, 1 inch tall!

Sources:

<http://news.nationalgeographic.com/news/2013/12/131210-coldest-place-on-earth-antarctica-science/>

<http://snowbrains.com/10-interesting-facts-about-snow/>

<http://www.22facts.com/winter/>

<http://www.guinnessworldrecords.com/records-3000/tallest-snowman/>